 - ✓ Middle School Grades 6 – 8
 - ✓ High School – Grades 9 – 12

- Prizes were as follows:

Councilor Rodriguez went on to note that this year they would like to include all students, whether they were home schooled, attend a private school; or tech-magnet school, noting that the Program would be open to all students in Ledyard. She stated the Contest Details for those not attending Ledyard Public Schools would need to be disseminated through social media.

Councilor Rodriguez noted that last year's High School Essay Contest Winner also received an Award and Scholarship from the Masons. She stated with presenting the Contest Winners their prizes at the Town Council meeting that you could see that the Students and their parents were very proud, as they should be for winning the contest, and she noted the essays and posters were remarkable.

Councilor Rodriguez went on to note that the judges this year were as follows: A Board of Education Member, Mashantucket Pequot Tribal Council Member Crystal Whipple, Ledyard Police Department Sergeant McKinney, and herself.

Councilor Marshall commented that during Black History Month everyone seemed to focus on the popular figures in history such as Martin Luther King or George Washington Carver. However, he stated there were a number of others who should also be recognized noting as an example the following:

- First African-American Senator - In 1870 Hiram Revels of Mississippi became the first African-American Senator and five years later, Blanche K. Bruce of Mississippi also took the oath of office.
- First African American Woman elected to the United States Congress was Shirley Anita Chisholm in 1968. Congresswoman Chisholm served for seven terms from 1969 to 1983 and represented New York's 12th Congressional District.
- First African-American that went into space was Guion (Guy) Bluford on August 30, 1983. He noted Mr. Bluford launched into a low Earth orbit aboard the Space Shuttle Challenger. He subsequently flew aboard three additional shuttle missions, logging a total of 688 hours in space.
- First African-American Woman that went to space was Mae Jemison in 1992. He noted Ms. Jemison was a US Astronaut, Doctor and Engineer. She was one of the member seven crew aboard the Space Shuttle Endeavour.

Councilor Saums stated he agreed with Councilor Marshall's comments, and he suggested that they also try to present information regarding some local historical figures. He stated part of the Community Relations Committee's Charter was to inform and educate. He suggested they start to publicize what they have found through research noting as an example the following:

- Amasa Lawrence, was born in Thompson, Connecticut, around 1811. While little was known of his childhood or his parents, in 1833 he was enumerated in a private census of tribal members living on the reservation in what was then Groton, Connecticut, now known as Ledyard. The state appointed overseer Erastus Williams, described Amasa as 22 years old, of mixed black, white, and Indian ancestry, and the grandson of Esther Dick. As a young man Amasa took to the sea, as a crew member aboard the ship Manchester Packet, which departed from the New London, Connecticut on June 30, 1832 bound for the South Atlantic. On August 9, 1864, Amasa enlisted in the Union Army as a soldier in the 29th CT Volunteer Regiment. He was one of many Connecticut Indians to volunteer for service. He was mustered into service in Norwich on August 15, 1864. As a soldier in Company K he traveled with the rest of the 29th to be stationed outside of Petersburg. On September 26, 1879 Amasa died of dropsy in Ledyard, likely at his home on the reservation. His death record indicates he left behind a widow. Based on the death record, which indicates his age at death as 76, he was born in 1803. The bulk of the extent documentation supports a younger age at death and a birth date of c. 1811. The tribe paid for his burial, burial clothes, and the funeral service.

Council Saums went on to note the battle at Fort Griswold and he stated there were some amazing people in history.

Councilor Paul stated that he would like to see the Black History Month Contest Winners be announced at a Town Council meeting as they did last year.

2. Draft a Schedule for Public Information Forums to present to residents the types of services the town offers; how to access services, and the authority residents should direct concerns regarding services.

The Committee discussed the following topics for Informational Forums:

- Land Use Processes – Councilor Paul noted that the Land Use Department was currently short-staffed; and due to vacation schedules he has not had the opportunity to meet with Land Use Director Juliet Hodge to talk about the details of holding an Informational Forum to present to residents the Land Use processes relative to the approval of applications, to help residents understand the complexities involved relative to Regulatory, the Plan of Conservation & Development (POCD), etc.

Councilor Paul went on to state that the Community Relations Committee had also discussed including a Frequently Asked Question (FAQ) Sheet as part of the Presentation that would answer general land use questions, noting the FAQ Sheet could be posted on the town's website, the meeting portal, and be linked to social media pages.

The Committee agreed that they would like to provide the Land Use Informational Presentation in April or May, 2023.

- Fraud Presentation– Sergeant McKinney gave a 30-minute presentation regarding Fraud at Saint David's Church in Gales Ferry. It was very informative, and the Committee discussed inviting Sergeant McKinney to give the Fraud Presentation at the Community Relations Committee's March 16, 2023 meeting. The Committee discussed the importance to get this type of information out to residents and especially to their Senior Citizens community.

Councilor Saums stated he just texted Sergeant McKinney about inviting him to give the Fraud Presentation at the Senior Citizens Center on March 16, 2023. He noted that Sergeant McKinney responded stating that the first Fraud Presentation he gave was at the Senior Citizens Center about a year ago. The Committee agreed to keep the Fraud Presentation on their schedule and to consider holding the event at a different location.

- Library Services – Councilor Paul stated rather than invite the Library to a Community Relations Committee meeting that the Committee work to do something with the Library. He suggested hosting a booth at the Farmers’ Market that would feature the Library and the many community services that they provide. Councilor Saums suggested the Library host an Open House while the Community Relations Committee was hosting a booth at the Farmers Market. He stated they could provide some literature regarding the Library at their booth and then refer them to stop by the Library Open House.

Councilor Paul suggested at their February 15, 2023 meeting that the Community Relations Committee develop a calendar with the events that they would like to feature during the upcoming months. He stated having a schedule in place would allow them to plan and coordinate with other departments/organizations/entities that they would like to feature.
