Dear Ms. Maher and Ledyard Town Council,

New London County Farm Bureau is hosting an event May 9

Topic- On Farm Anaerobic digesters and food waste in the State of CT

Where- Fort Hill Dairy Farm, Thompson.

NRCS, DOAG, the owner of Ag-Grid Energy (who has installed numerous on farm anaerobic digesters in State, including one at Fort Hill Farm) will be there and speak. Dave Aldridge will hopefully speak too, please? (he said 1 or 100, he'd speak about food waste composting to anyone. He would add a lot to the event. So would Ledyard Town Council if they could attend)

Sincerely,
Kevin Blacker

Fort Hill's digester, currently accepts food waste.

Dave Aldridge doing yeoman's work and doing it well.

Important to me that the Council know I was speaking accurately on every single point I raised last night. Mr. Aldrich refuted my point of concern on excess water. Please see highlighted text below.

COMPOST SMELLS LIKE ROTTEN EGGS

If your compost smells like rotten eggs

To troubleshoot this you need to turn it. It should be moist, but not wet.
