Subject: Please fwd to community relations committee members

Good evening and happy Friday! I wanted to get this email out while the ideas were fresh in my head. I'll be at the meeting this week and maybe we could chat more then about it.

IDEAS

1. Some type of informal community meeting prior to the November elections where residents can either speak their 3min or ask a candidate a question. I feel this is important given there are options for Mayor this year.
2. Meeting with CRC and Housing authority as there still is no safe remedy for the smokers. One of which has almost gotten hit by both a town council member and a housing board member. I have tried to research grant info for them to help with recording equipment for meetings but feel like the safety really needs to be addressed.
3. For black history month. While I think the poster contest is good for the younger kids, not one high schooler participated last year. Can we collectively brainstorm something age appropriate for high school aged kids? As well as maybe switch up the judges to include teachers,paras and everyday community members of color?

Ok I think that's all of them for today.

Have a great weekend!!
