

Roxanne Maher

From: Kevin Blacker <kjblacker@sbcglobal.net>
Sent: Tuesday, December 17, 2024 8:50 AM
To: cmrkapoor.chro@ct.gov; ed.mambruno@ct.gov; andrew.norton@ct.gov; edith.pestana@ct.gov; Sujata.Gadkar-Wilcox@quinnipiac.edu; tamara.titre@ct.gov
Cc: MARK COEN; mgawendo@crklewinllc.com; Chase Davis; branse@halloransage.com; Naomi Rodriguez; galesferrydistrict@gmail.com; Harry Heller; Fred Allyn, III; Elizabeth Burdick; wcarroll@cohenandwolf.com; Francisco Uranga; Lee Howard; Gregory Stroud; Marc Fitch; Ledyardcalu Info; Cathy Osten; Mike Cherry; Roxanne Maher; Treasurer; Greg Smith; Brian Smith; willis@halloransage.com; Angela Cassidy; Capon, J Anthony
Subject: Who defends the civil rights of the despised?
Attachments: Branse Letter about Tony Capon 10-22-2024.pdf

No one likes the guy trying to build a trailer park in town. 353 apartments on a former farm. Or level 26 acres along the Thames River nearby to a village and historic fort. BaBOOM!

Is one less deserving of due process because they're unpopular? Does fear or distain justify violation of the civil rights of the one who dare think differently? Be different. Reach. Change. Try something new.

Lawyer for one of the despised outlines civil rights violation (attached). Two others indicate similar treatment and appear posturing for legal action.

Does defense of civil rights fall on the shoulders of the afflicted? Is popularity a prerequisite to civil rights in this country?

Of course not.

Sincerely,
Kevin Blacker

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EpY4ea2oyZk>