Hello all!

At the Ledyard Historical Society's executive board meeting tonight we voted to cancel this year's Yuletide Celebration. This was due to several factors, among which is that the first Sunday in December, (our traditional date) falls on Thanksgiving weekend this year, when all of us (and probably all of you) will be enjoying time with family. We also worry that trying to hold this event at a later date will not result in the attendance we usually enjoy and will contribute to the already stressful busyness of the holiday season for many of us. We very much look forward to working together next year on other events.

I hope everyone has a joyful holiday season!

Take care,
Drey
